Formative data are the measures of student performance administered periodically to determine if the content you are implementing is having the desired effect. When student growth is uneven, these data are used to modify the implementation plan as well.

- Study formative data collection instruments you have selected.
- Name and number each instrument.
- Using the grid below, identify the type of data each instrument collects.
- Answer the questions at the bottom of page.

Name of school: _____ AEA: _____

	Instrument 1 NAME:	Instrument 2 NAME:	Instrument 3 NAME:

Estimating yield from formative data collection:

Will you know what instructional and curricular changes your students are experiencing? Is each student getting enough instruction in this strategy to yield positive results?

Will you know whether teachers are implementing the SD content with sufficient frequency and skill that students get the intended benefit?

Will you be able to track student progress/growth on the targeted knowledge/skills?

Will you have enough information to adjust the training and workplace supports to help those teachers who are not transferring the skill into their classrooms?

What else might you need to include in your formative data collection?
